The Mystery begins

"Kris Koala, private eye?"

"Yes."

"This is Mr. James at Poly High. Our student body president and his fellow cohorts are here asking for some professional aid in solving our great mystery. It's urgent. Can you come?"

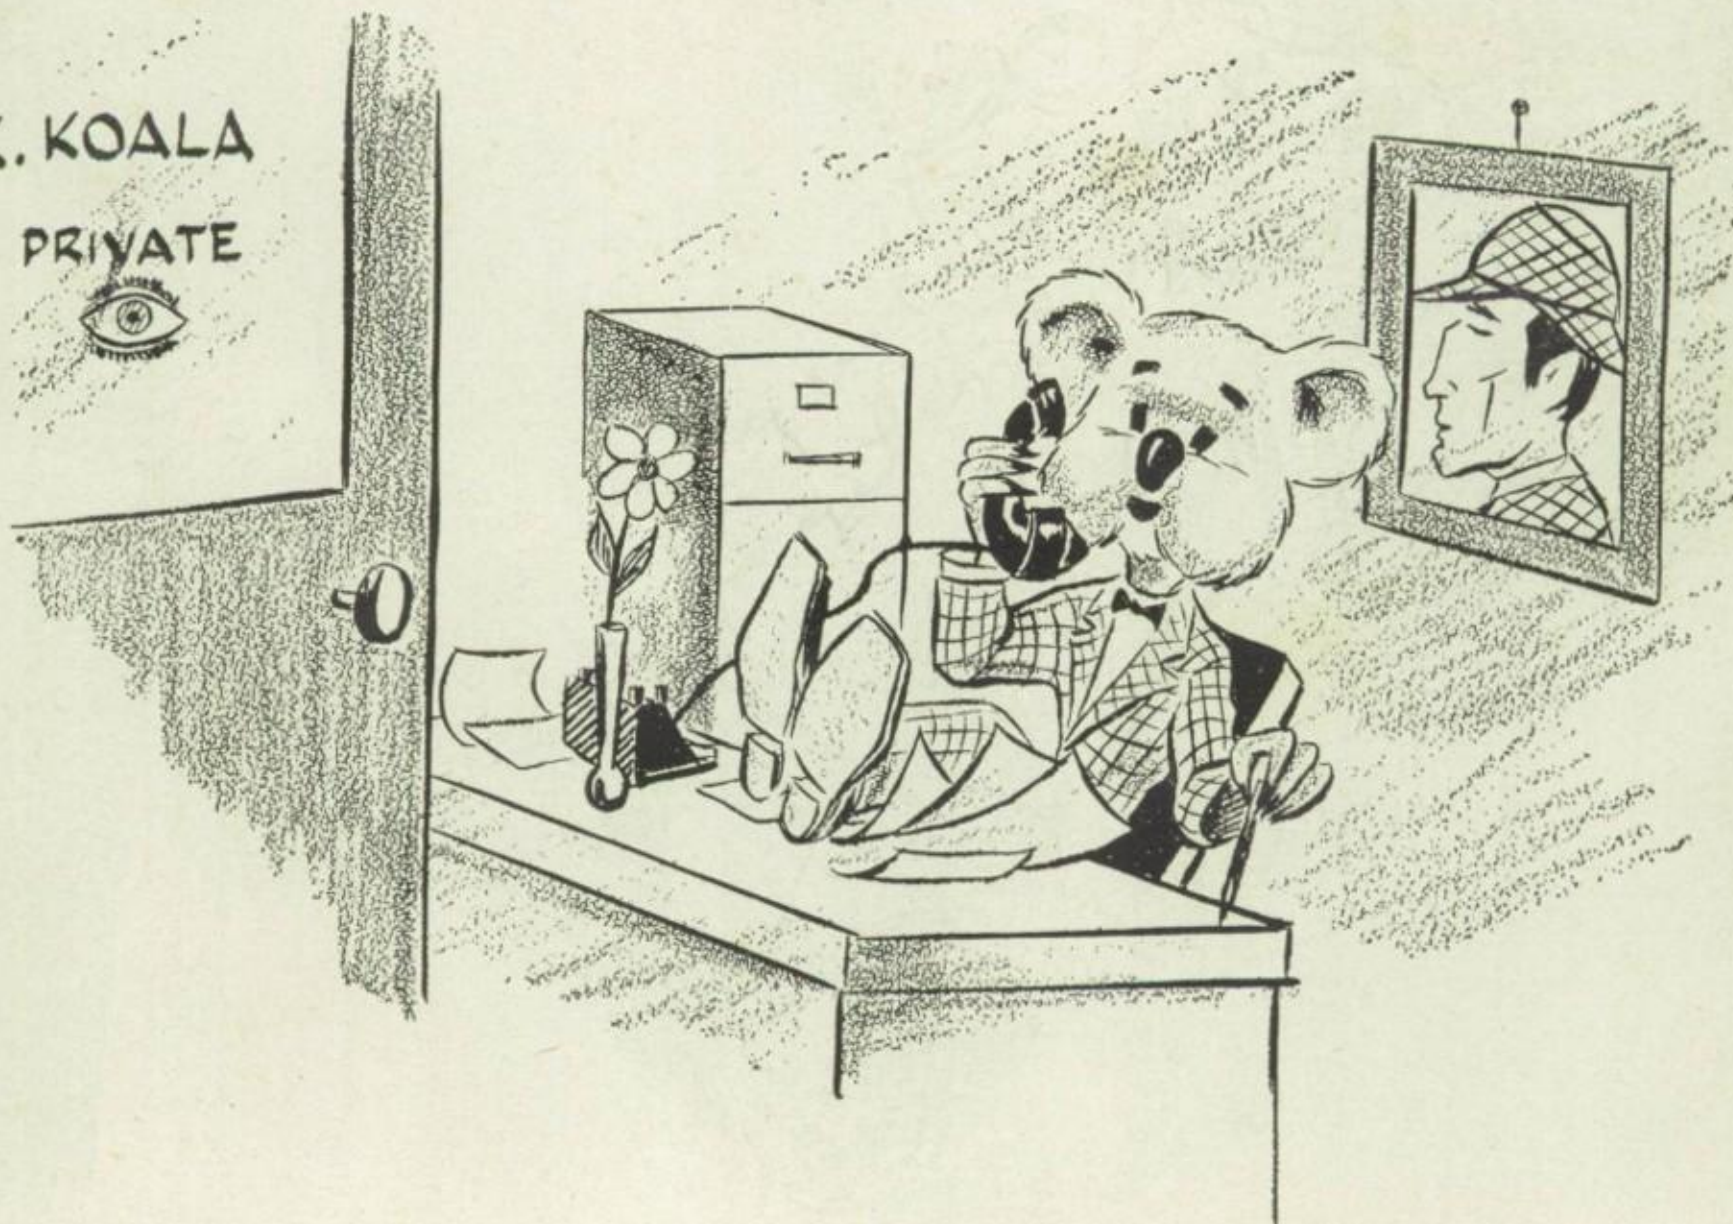

"Of course. What mystery?"

"What mystery? WHODUNIT, of course!"

"I'm on my way."

... It wears down pencils, causes aspirin sales to boom, wears out heels. ... For three years there is something amiss. ... It's in the air all around us, yet no one knows the answer.

But the coming of Detective Kris means that the culprit's career at Poly is near its end!

The Powers

Our chief detective, more commonly known as principal, is Mr. Fred L. McEuen. In case you haven't noticed, this is a mighty big school, but it's fantastic the way he knows "wha's hopp'nen'" in every nook and cranny.

"For he's a jolly good fellow, for he's a jolly good fellow . . ." And if you boys wish to question the matter, try trading places with our vice-principal, Mr. Arthur Bloom. It takes a big man for such a big job!

Think of the number of cases she's set in the right direction! The girls at Poly would be lost without the quick sympathy and expert advice of Miss Jean Thayer, dean of women.

To each of you — from one and all — a heartfelt appreciation.

Through unfortunate extenuating circumstances, the School Board was unable to start its 1951 building plan for Poly, but, as always, they stood behind all school policies and gave support to our many activities. Their hard work to maintain good teachers and desirable conditions should be especially commended, as it is completely voluntary and at times without proper thanks.

that be...

"With every good endeavor" might be the motto of the Parent-Teachers Association. Besides the traditional purpose of promoting better relations between teachers and parents, this year's P.-T. A. Board co-sponsored the dad-son night baseball game and the annual fashion show honoring mothers. There were also welfare work and such humanitarian incidentals as providing money, glasses, and supplies where they would do the most good.

These helped make the wheels go around.

"Why? How? How much?" You think Mr. Glyde, guidance director (below), would soon yell "Uncle," but if perchance he can't find an answer, his capable secretary, Mrs. Maddox, will.

Mr. Rupel and Mr. McMillan are shown here in their role of mechanical drawing instructors looking over the product of Glen Curtis' T-square juggling.

Escapades with Einstein

Could Mr. Casey figure our mystery mathematically with the help of a slide rule? Could it be found in the last Spanish test given by Mr. Booth? Will it be found between two musty pages of a neglected history book? Even sneak looks into those little black books with the suspicious markings don't shed any light on our dilemma. We'll all be a race of white-haired Methusalas if this isn't soon solved. Whom can we blame?

Though a miniature Poly bear is holding the attention of Mr. Casey, Mr. Wrentmore, and Mr. Dixon, they don't deal with such small figures in their "arithmetic" classes!

Therefore, $x+y$ and $7+6=$ Miss Hofstetter, Miss Thorsen, Mr. Deeter, and Mr. Duncan. They're math teachers, in other words!

Miss Rickard, Mr. James, Mr. Sevaly, Mr. Scott, and Mr. Adams, social studies teachers.

Mr. Jenkins shows two of his students that Australia is still on the map.

A study of the World, it's problems, and the people in it.

History teachers Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Mulkey, Mr. Green, and Mr. Hadwiger.

This triumvirate of Mr. Kutch, Mr. Raymer, and Mr. MacCuish was responsible for the fine dramatic productions and the good debates during the Geek's reign at Poly.

Entertainment through

George Thomas Raymer

plays,
and music.*

Anytime you've heard real music "lilting" o'er our campus, it was a sure bet that either Mr. Derick, Mr. Oaks, or Mr. Mummert was responsible.

Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Wybourn,
Mr. Lombard.

Mr. Scantlebury, Miss Roberson, Mr. Kimerlin, Miss Henry.

From Chaucer to Caesar and English is supposed to be the most difficult language, and as we struggled through the sophomore year, and the teachers struggled with us through the junior year, we felt sure that relief would at last come to us as seniors. But, alas, it seems that these gerunds and participles haven't quite penetrated the wilderness, and "English Essentials" presents itself. Those who volunteered services in English IV or V, however, begrudgingly admitted they really had learned something.

Mrs. Thompson, Miss McKeever,
Miss McCament, Mr. Bell.

Mrs. Roblee, Mrs. Brauti, Miss McMartin.

"Parley-vous Francais ..."

Then there are also those original Caesar fans who are able (lucky ones) to appreciate the Latin which Miss Finley and Miss Gilbert patiently endeavor to explain.

French, which we've been told is purely an agreement between a Frenchman and his adenoids, was graciously taught by Miss Schulze, as visions of life à la Louis XIV danced through the heads of her "eleves."

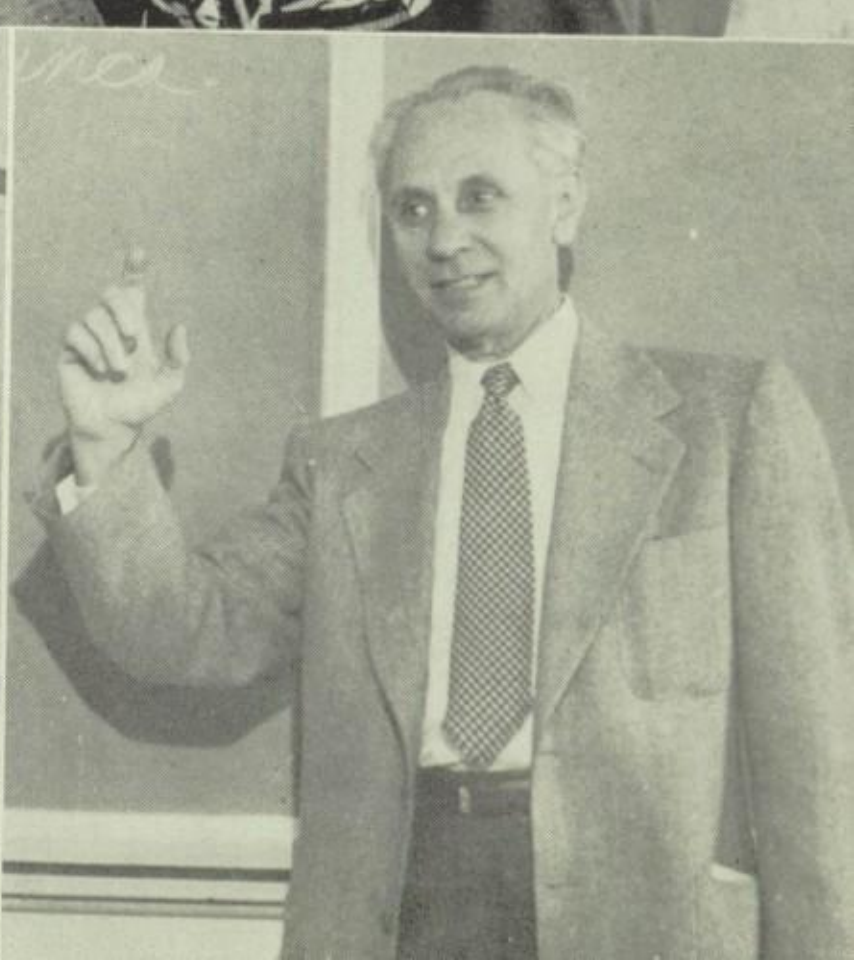

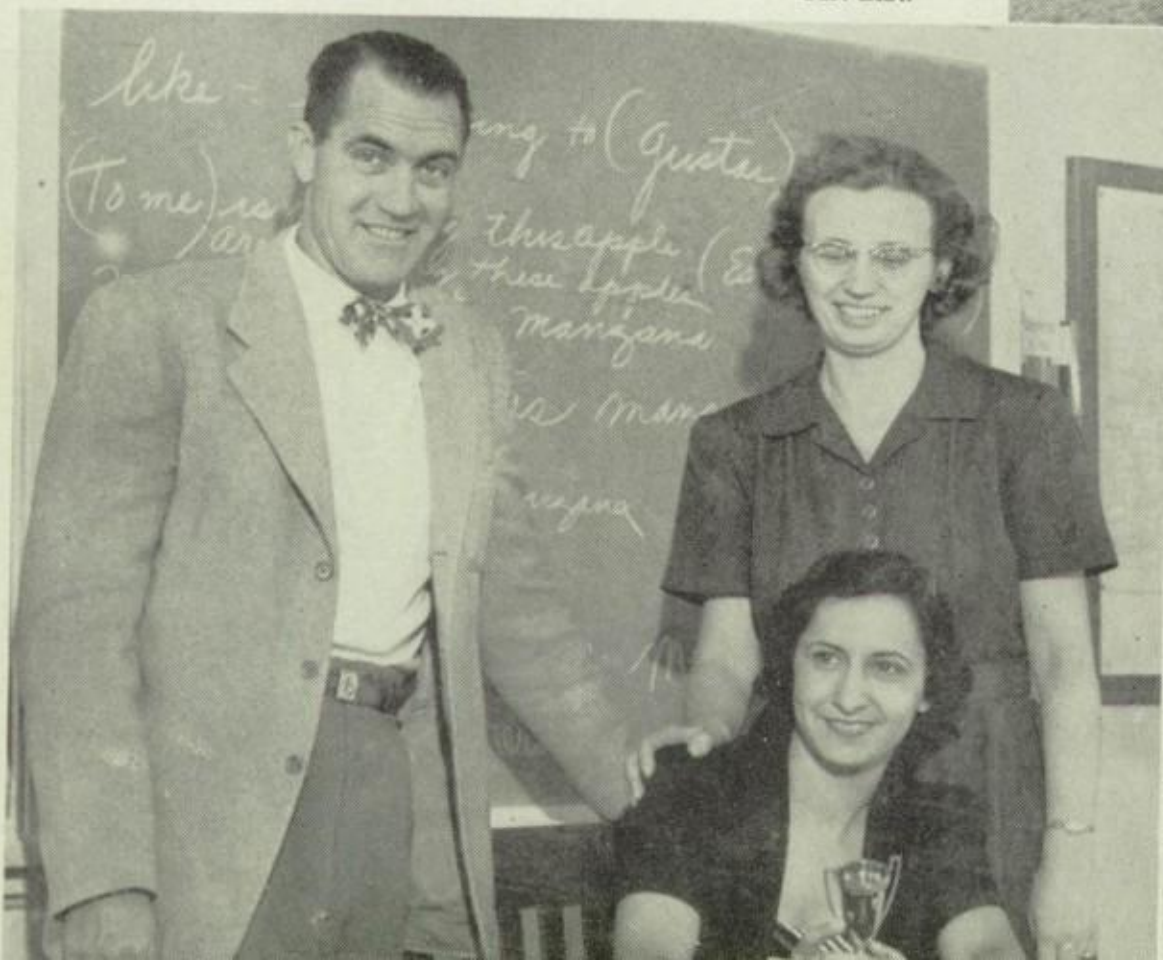

Whether it was the personal and very individualistic charm of the Spanish teachers, Mr. Booth, Miss Palatino and Mr. List, or just a distinct interest in their below-the-border neighbors, Poly students found a distinct challenge in the melodic trilling of "r"s.

Miss Finley, Miss Gilbert.

Mr. Booth, Miss Schulze, Miss Palatino.

Mr. List.

It has to add up that Mrs. Ferrall, Miss Coates, Miss Elliott, and Mrs. Matthews are our commercial teachers.

Training us for the "legal" numbers racket is the task of Miss Schnee, Mrs. Ohmen, and Mrs. Morse.

There's method

These six, Mr. Ingersoll, Mr. Carlson, Mr. De Pucchio, Mr. Morris, Mr. DuBois, and Mr. Mosher are our shop teachers, with plenty of know-how!

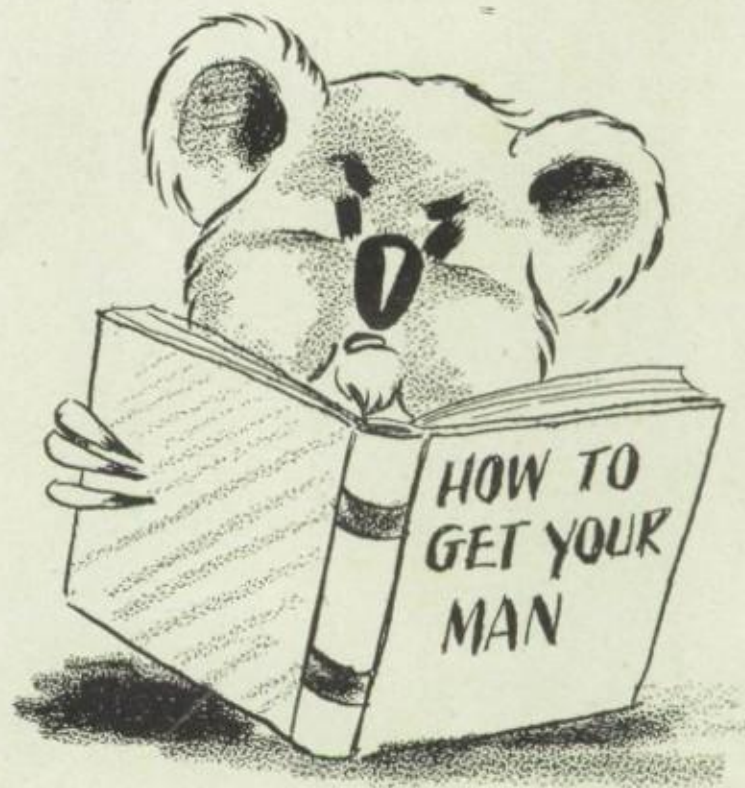

Masters of the feminine arts, sewing and cooking, are Miss Lindsay, Miss Coleman, and Miss Proctor.

Fellas, you'll each have a good wife yet, with Mrs. Guyer teaching home nursing, Miss Schouler showing the way to balance pots and pans, and Mrs. Zehnpfenig guiding those flying stitches in needlearts.

"Now name in order the bones in the body of a worm," say Mr. Harper and Mrs. Fentzling, but Mr. Barto doesn't know. His business is physics, or with what horsepower that worm makes it up a hill.

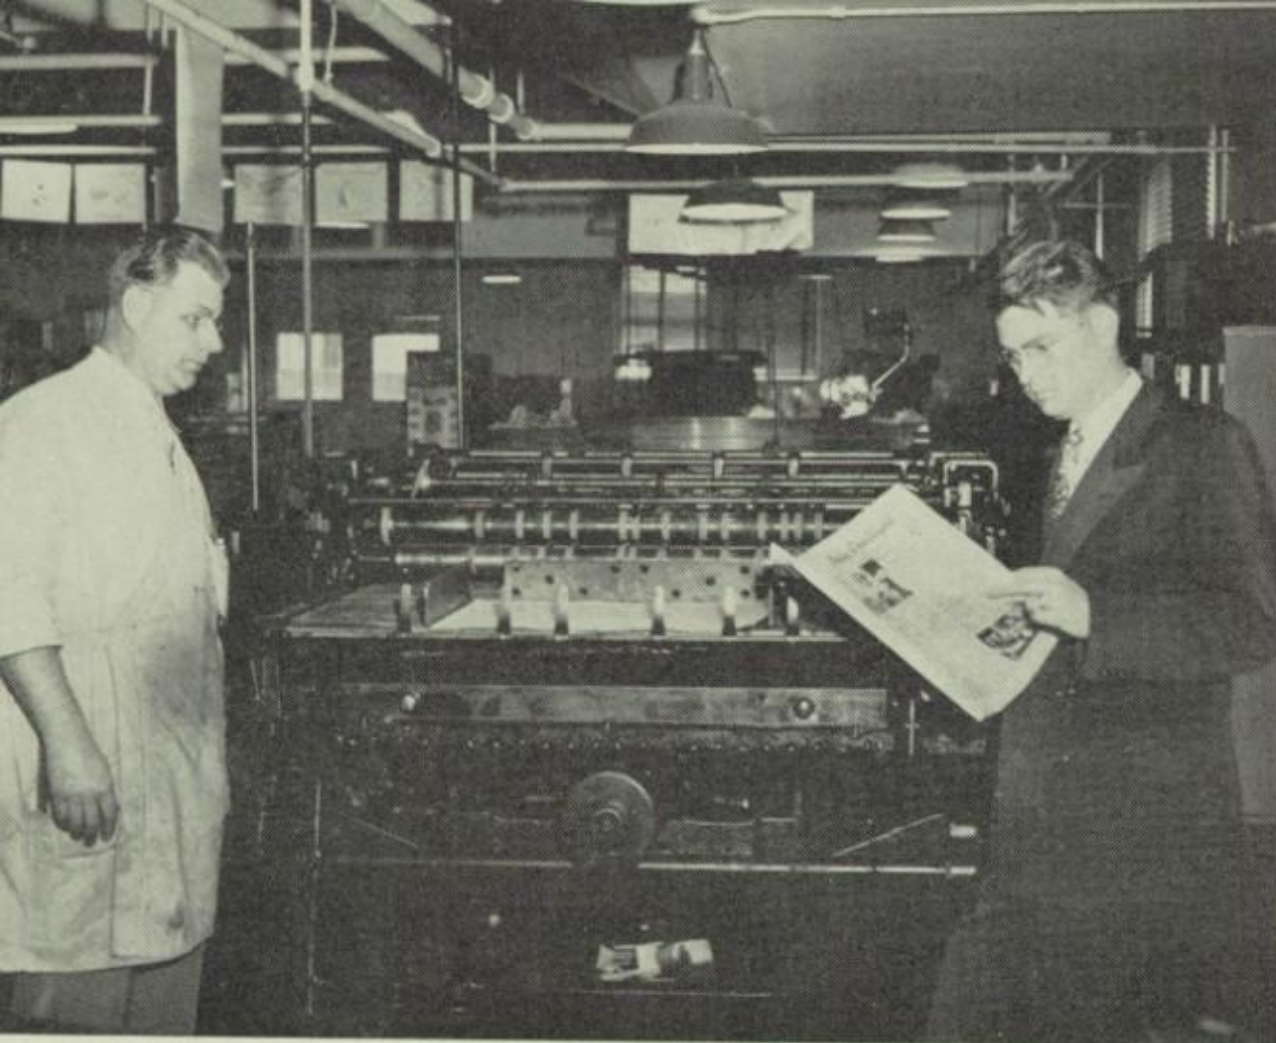

The solution of our mystery does not lend itself to the scientific approach. But if such were the case, our staff of scientific experts would have cleared up the "WHODUNIT" angle long ago!

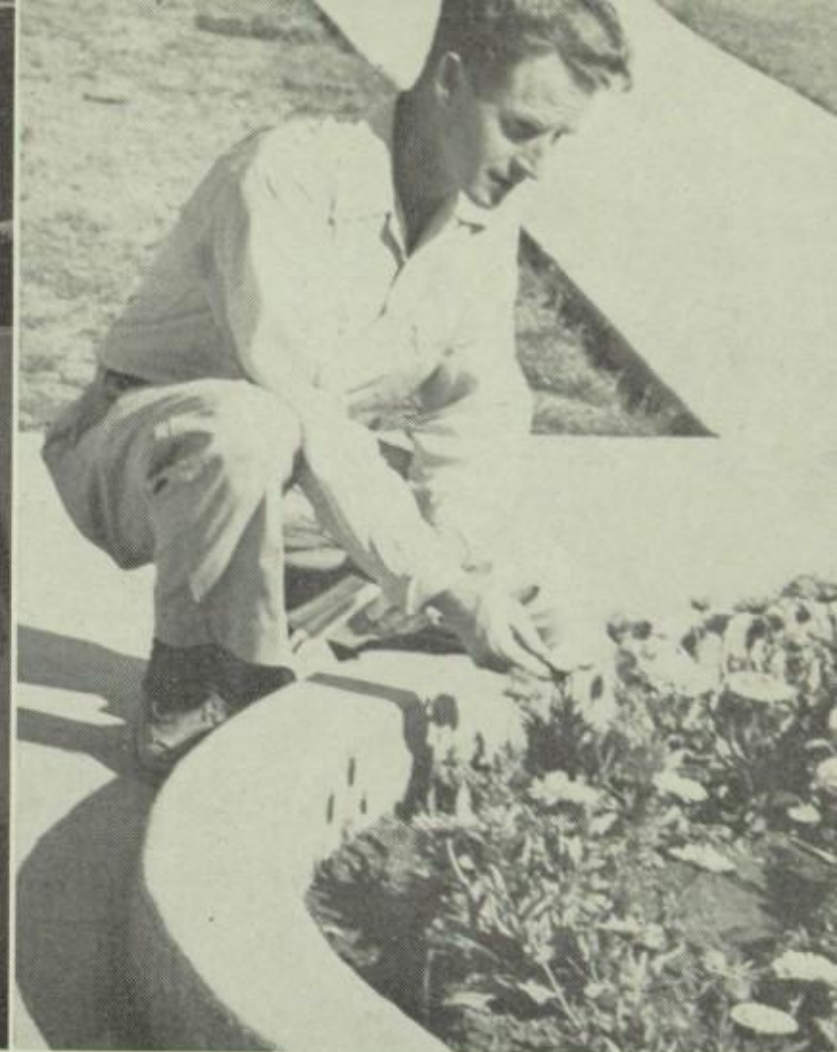

life and in

Your guess is as good as ours! Looks as if Mr. Cooper and Mr. Engleman are brewing another mystery with chemicals but just to be safe you should hold your nose.

Looking over a newly printed Spotlight are Mr. Epp, the printer, and Mr. Ferris, the advisor.

Small wonder these flowers are so pretty! Mr. Frost teaches agriculture—and it looks as if he's had his green thumb in these, too.

its opportunities...

Thanks to Mr. Eynon, Mr. Heath, Mr. Martin and Mr. Weir, the lamp posts of Riverside will be safer after the driver's education course is through with us Poly students.

Artists! Don't hop the next train for Greenwich Village! Poly's own instructors, Mr. Butterfield, Mr. Bush, and Mr. Stoever can answer your every need, as well as save you money!

"Ah! For the life of a girls' physical education teacher—at lunch time!" say Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Sharp, Miss Burke and Miss Graffen.

Yell "Coach!" and any one of these six might turn around: Messrs. Vanderzyl, Mumma, Hallock, Rife, Steele, and Hammerschmidt.

To keep matters

"So you want to go home—again?" Seriously, though, Mrs. Gilkeson and the "H. O." are boon companions when we get an ache, or get just plain tired out.

Do you suppose Miss Marquard or Mrs. Lamb would find the answer to WHODUNIT in one of those books in the library?

The women who keep the office in efficient running order are: Mrs. Kathryn Jones, Miss Thayer's invaluable secretary; Mrs. Martha Seip, Mrs. Elizabeth Hodge, and Mrs. Athel Brainard, Mr. McEuen's ever-busy secretary.

interesting, we have

Our cooks—and how we love 'em! Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Holms, Mrs. Scapple (cashier), Mrs. Stout, Mrs. Edwell, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Hoag, Mrs. Prophet (cashier), and Mrs. Portbury.

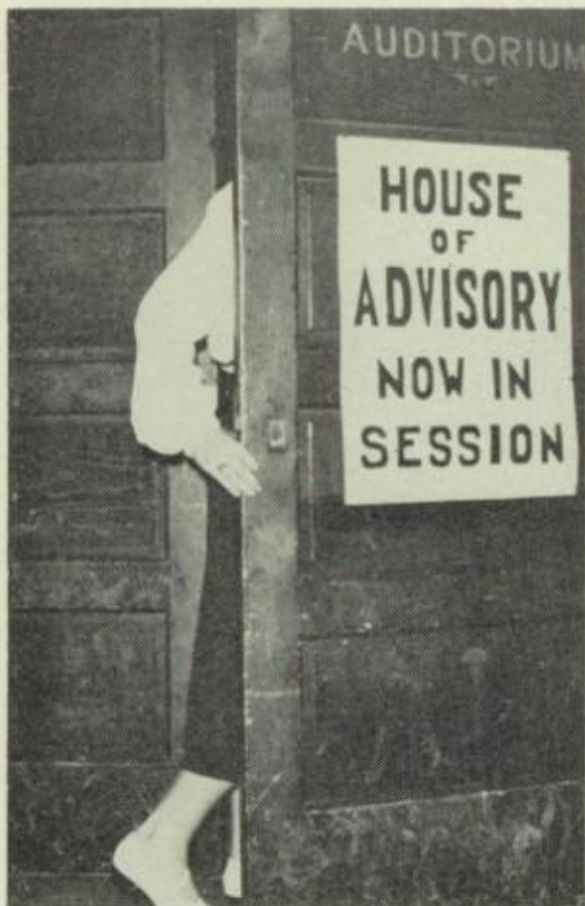

the syndicate

New business? Old business? Monkey business? Bob Marshall presided over these "businesses," especially the latter, as president of our great student body (in size, that is!)—and a well-qualified lad he is.

Ten of the most personable Polyites were the commission members, row 1: Edna Herrera, current publications; Liz Walters, girls' welfare; Bob Marshall, president; Ardath Chapman, records; Alice Kjellberg, literary activities. Row 2: Larry Walters, entertainment; Mr. James, advisor (bless his heart!); Bob Porter, boys' welfare; Ben Braly, vice-president; Bill Polcene, senior yell leader; Manuel Villalpando, finance.

Behind closed doors—a clue?

In spite of themselves, the representatives were an active group and accomplished much to benefit everyone, except escalators in the gym stairs!

and the “spy ring.”

Then there was the president of vice, Ben Braly. He hammered the House of Advisory to order as the thunder of pattering hoofs echoed down the halls to the meeting, where, judging by the picture, his sense of humor kept matters (and the representatives) alive.

Liz Walters, president of Girls League, did her job with the utmost of ability—and with her heart in all of it. A warm smile and a cheery hello! . . . that's Liz's way with everyone.

There were her whims and Keeping tabs on straying sophomore girls was just one of the duties of these Senior Sponsors. Row 3: Stich, Kiel, Ervin, Hammond, Baily, Ivory, Lee, Davis, Peterson Sawyer, Chilton, Gern.

Though it seemed that most of the activity in Hi-Tri was to run pell-mell when the clock struck eight for the waiting car of some male, 'tweren't so! There was hard work to provide a full program for the three hundred members. It all began with the "Hershey Hobble" and Recognition, included events with Mama and Papa, then ended in a whirl of "Carousel." Gathering of the clan, the HI-TRI CABINET: Sharon Daugherty, Marcia Younglove, LeAnn Sawyer, Elizabeth Walters, Marilyn McMillan, Evelyn Bricker, Susan Brainard, Marilyn Miller (director), Diane McClinton, Mary Ann Modica, Judy Sayre, Diane Bryant, Janet Meares, Sally Alabaster, Mary Bonnett, Nerissa Paul, Dixie Hogan, Kathleen Mayer, Sharlee Richard.

those Monday nights!

Busy as they are, not all the club presidents were able to be present when this was taken—or maybe modesty kept them away. Left to right, seated, those present are: S. Mitchell, G. A. A. All-Stars president; T. Mulkey, Junior Orchestras president; E. Walters, Girls League president; A. Clark, Ramblers Club president; J. Sayre, Hi-Tri president; Ann Kutch, Honor Society president; R. Fitch, Commercial Club president. Standing: D. Warner, Stamp and Coin Club president; G. Boucher, World Friendship Club president; J. Hetrick, Steigers president; and B. Polcene, Pep Club president.

So you became Juniors

Hold on! There's a sharp corner ahead! Turn it, and you'll at last rule the roost! After that humble year as sophomores, you dug in and shook the teeth of your superiors, the Geeks (speak the name with reverence, please!), athletically, dramatically — just plain old competition. Ask the senior girls! However, you were kept in your proper place, with swollen thumbs, and the banged shins to attest to your utter devotion in giving that exclusive production — the prom. For all of this, may you be the second best class Poly will ever know.

CLUE "A"

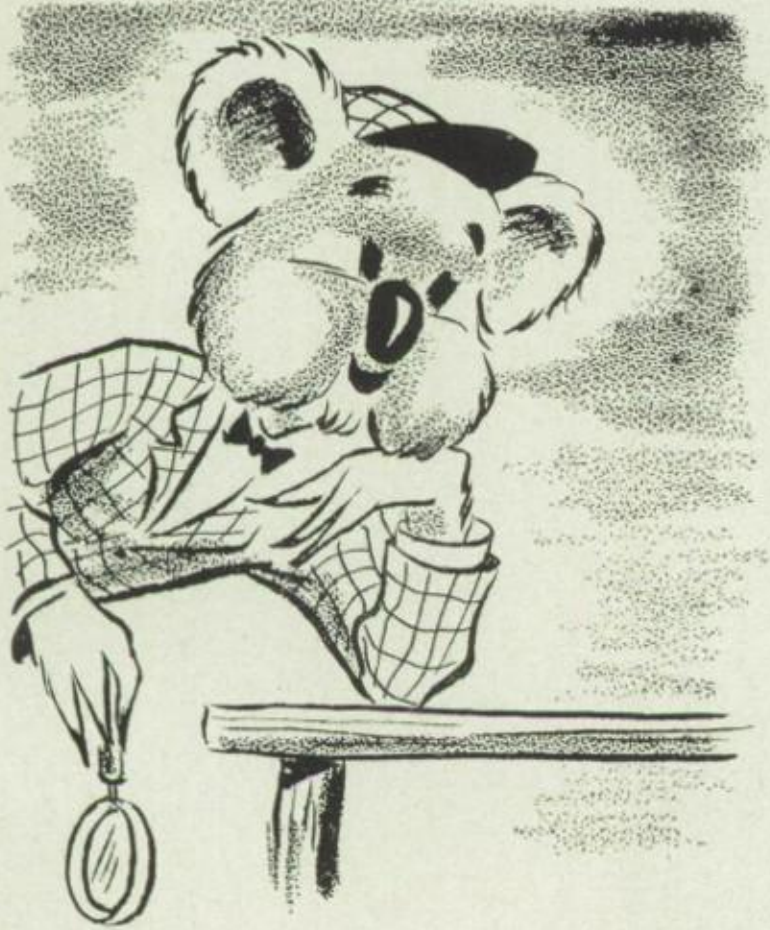

CLUE "B"

At any athletic event you would have been sure to see the engaging smiles and energetic antics of Bob Castle, Pat Woodward, Joanne Jones and Bill Polcene, cheerleaders. Most of all, they would be front and center, yelling with enthusiasm. As they turned purple from failing lung power, the senior gift of an electric megaphone saved the day (to say nothing of four valuable Polyites).

These led the cheers.

These led the music.

With such baton-twirling beauties prancing high and fancy ahead of them, we don't see how the band members—at least those claiming masculinity (claiming what?)—could hang on to their instruments. Karen Williams and Paula Peterson were responsible for such a rapt expression on old K. Koala's face, who momentarily forgot his spy glass.

The mighty Bears, with a team that was not too strong, dropped its three practice tiffs. Then, in the C.B.L. opener, they gave their arch-rivals, San Bernardino, a 32-6 wallop in a brilliantly played game that set the stands wild. On the second and third games, they dropped hard-fought but downhill games to Redlands and Pomona. The Chaffey encounter was a lull before the storm, with the hosts losing a close one to the visiting Tigers. Our Bears, again with their superior power, opened the bomb bay doors on the Yellowjackets from Colton, 7 to 0!

Snowshoe racqueteers and miles of road...

With every outlook of blowing up the league this year, the fuse wasn't quite ready when our tennis team met Chaffey in the first C. B. L. match. After Redlands defaulted, the Poly string ensemble hoisted San Berdoo with 6-3 tally. Then our racquet men really seemed to explode as they sent the ball and the Colton opponents reeling to the tune of an 8 to 1 victory for the Bears. Though Shelton and Bliss, in first doubles position, were fully expected to take C. B. L. doubles, Chaffey's phenomenal jinx appeared again in the semi-finals with other ideas.

Players who led the points production were Captain Voyle Shelton and Ronnie Bliss, who returned for his third stripe; Carl Graham and Dave Hoover, second doubles performers; Dick Blaine, most improved player, but unfortunately for Poly, a senior; and Gordon Maloney, a very promising sophomore.

This year our tank men stroked to a C. B. L. championship, even walloping Redlands, who had won the C. B. L. and C. I. F. championships last year. The Bears were led by Captain Jim Baker, Fritz Lédfors, Paul Brannan, Don Stansell, Les and Jerry Easterling, Jerry Slavin, Buddy Barton, Blaine Fife, and Jerry Klotz. In the mid-winter C. I. F., Baker took third in the class A 100-yard backstroke; Stansell took third in the class B 200-yard free style, and a fourth in the 100-yard free style. Bud Barton took third in class B diving and Les Easterling took fifth in the class A diving. In the final C. I. F. meet at Long Beach, the boys also made a good showing for themselves. Barton took third in the B diving for the second time, Brannan took fifth in the 100-yard backstroke and Ledfors took fourth in the 50-yard free style. A quartet composed of Brannan, Ledfors, Klotz and Slavin also took a fifth in the class A for the four-man relay event. Coach Hallock said that this was the best team in the history of Poly!

The Koala

Small but mighty is what the Koala staff affectionately calls its editor, Alice Kjellberg. Diligent, ambitious, and reliable beyond all that could be asked, are only a few of the many fine qualities of this girl who deserves every bit of credit she receives.

in the making!

Traditionally, in this paragraph, we're supposed to claim our laziness, but let's face it! There's a lot of work involved in putting out an annual, especially this choice mystery edition of the dear old Koala. It's been fun, though, between Walter's ever-ready wit and Mr. Adams bellowing, "If anyone touches these things, mayhem will be wrought!" Dimensioning, cuts, copy all year long, with nothing guaranteed but an aching head crowned with quite a few grey hairs!

Mr. Adams, yearbook advisor, and Mr. Dixon, photographic advisor, appear amused at a picture for the Koala.

"To the dungeons!" better known as room 12. Whenever you were lucky enough to have your picture taken for this Koala, chances are one of these photographers was on the other side of the birdie.

In the first picture, head photographer Barbara Linthicum seems to be having difficulty getting Harold Bodie, another camera wielder, to cooperate.

For the latest gossip as well as more material things, the A. S. B. store was the place to go. (But even there no one knew the inside story of the question of WHODUNIT!)

Here might be said to be represented the "brains" of the locale of WHODUNIT.

Old lace

Turn around! We dare you!
Jean Bates and Bob Judson are oblivious to the unknown one of the reaching hands!!!!

"It's this way," sez Bill Polcene, but Bob looks a little doubtful. Right, Larry Poulson.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" was the rollicking comedy presented by the senior class, with leading characters (they surely were!)
portrayed by Myra Steele, Kay Ervin, Ronald Harm, Robert Judson, Lee Harvey, Bill Addington, and Larry Poulson.

"You'll be sorry!" we feel like saying to Preswood as M.
Steele pours while K. Ervin gleefully looks on.

"Now see here!" Bill Happ seems to say to Joanne Jones.

"Ye Olde Colonial Inn" and a realistic storm were the settings for the unusual junior play, "Ramshackle Inn." Personally we wouldn't care to patronize the place! Leading roles were taken by Joanne Jones, Philip Morgan, Ellen Johnson, and Sharon Vaughan. These were assisted by able fellow Slurps.

Caught in "Ramshackle Inn" rehearsal in an informal moment are Morgan, Parlette, Baxter, Anderson, Vaughan, McMillan, Brittain, Coon, Bryant, Jones, Happ, Johnson, Tate, Pilcher, Stewart. Prop managers were Sally Coon and Diane Bryant.

Row 1: Strickland, Pilcher, Brittain, Prestwood, Harm, Fannin, Donnelly, Steele, Harvey, Farr, Poulson, Happ, Neitman, Jones, Pascher, Frances.

Row 2: Clifford, Johnson, Winship, Sorgen, Modica, Shurley, Snyder, Stewart.

Actors and actresses all.

The A. S. B. produced a strictly tragic drama of "Elizabeth the Queen" which showed the real acting ability of its principal cast members: Myra Steele (Elizabeth), Lee Harvey (Essex), Bill Happ (Sir Walter Raleigh), Alecia Donnelly, Ronald Harm, Les Prestwood, and Ellen Johnson.

A last-act scene is portrayed by Farr, Prestwood, Happ, Harm, and Steele.

In background: Johnson, Snyder, Sorgen, Shurley, Modica, Stewart.

The Carnival came first;

The regal pair, the King and Queen of the Carnival, finally succeeded in not falling off their flower-bedecked throne which was in the form of a swing. The royal pair this year consisted of Ann McIntosh and Bob Porter. King Bob simply wasn't used to his unsteady ruling position!

This year's Carnival was a smash success, with the crowd offered every type of diversion from winning a baby chicken to seeing their own name in headlines. A gold cup was awarded to the Spanish-American Club for having the best decorated booth of the evening. (Two guesses what they sold!)

Sponge Week close behind.

Girls League planned something special for every night of Sponge Week, and even arranged with the Rubidoux Drive-In to allow all cars decorated in green and orange to see the show for free. Guess that shows the fellas who rates!

Don't get excited yet; that's only the first lock.

Just give her the old heave-ho!

What a conglomeration of humanity!

Endless expanse—like we wish spring vacation could be!

Our parents thought this was a time for us to loaf and get into mischief but they didn't know the half of it . . . burning blisters, sand in the baby oil, snubbed by big men in blue uniforms with shiny badges, neglected by the opposite sex . . . and they wondered why we should return home so eager for a rest and a good meal that couldn't be eaten fast enough. In fact—we aren't going back to the beach for another week!

Spring vacation . . .

These vacationers look happy and relaxed, but just wait till that sunburn gets the best of them!

What a week!

OOh! That evil look.

Bob's just giving the horse a help!

Loquacious leaders

Ann Louise Kutch has distinguished herself by being the most outstanding speech student, winning numerous awards during her three-year career at Poly. (At last! A woman who not only talks a lot but says something worthwhile, too!)

new*

Hi-Tri's Spring Dance "Carousel."

When the military went dancing.

Lieutenant-Colonel Herrold beams as Trudy Mulkey pins on his newly won "diamonds."

The banquet was sumptuous. There was no mystery here!

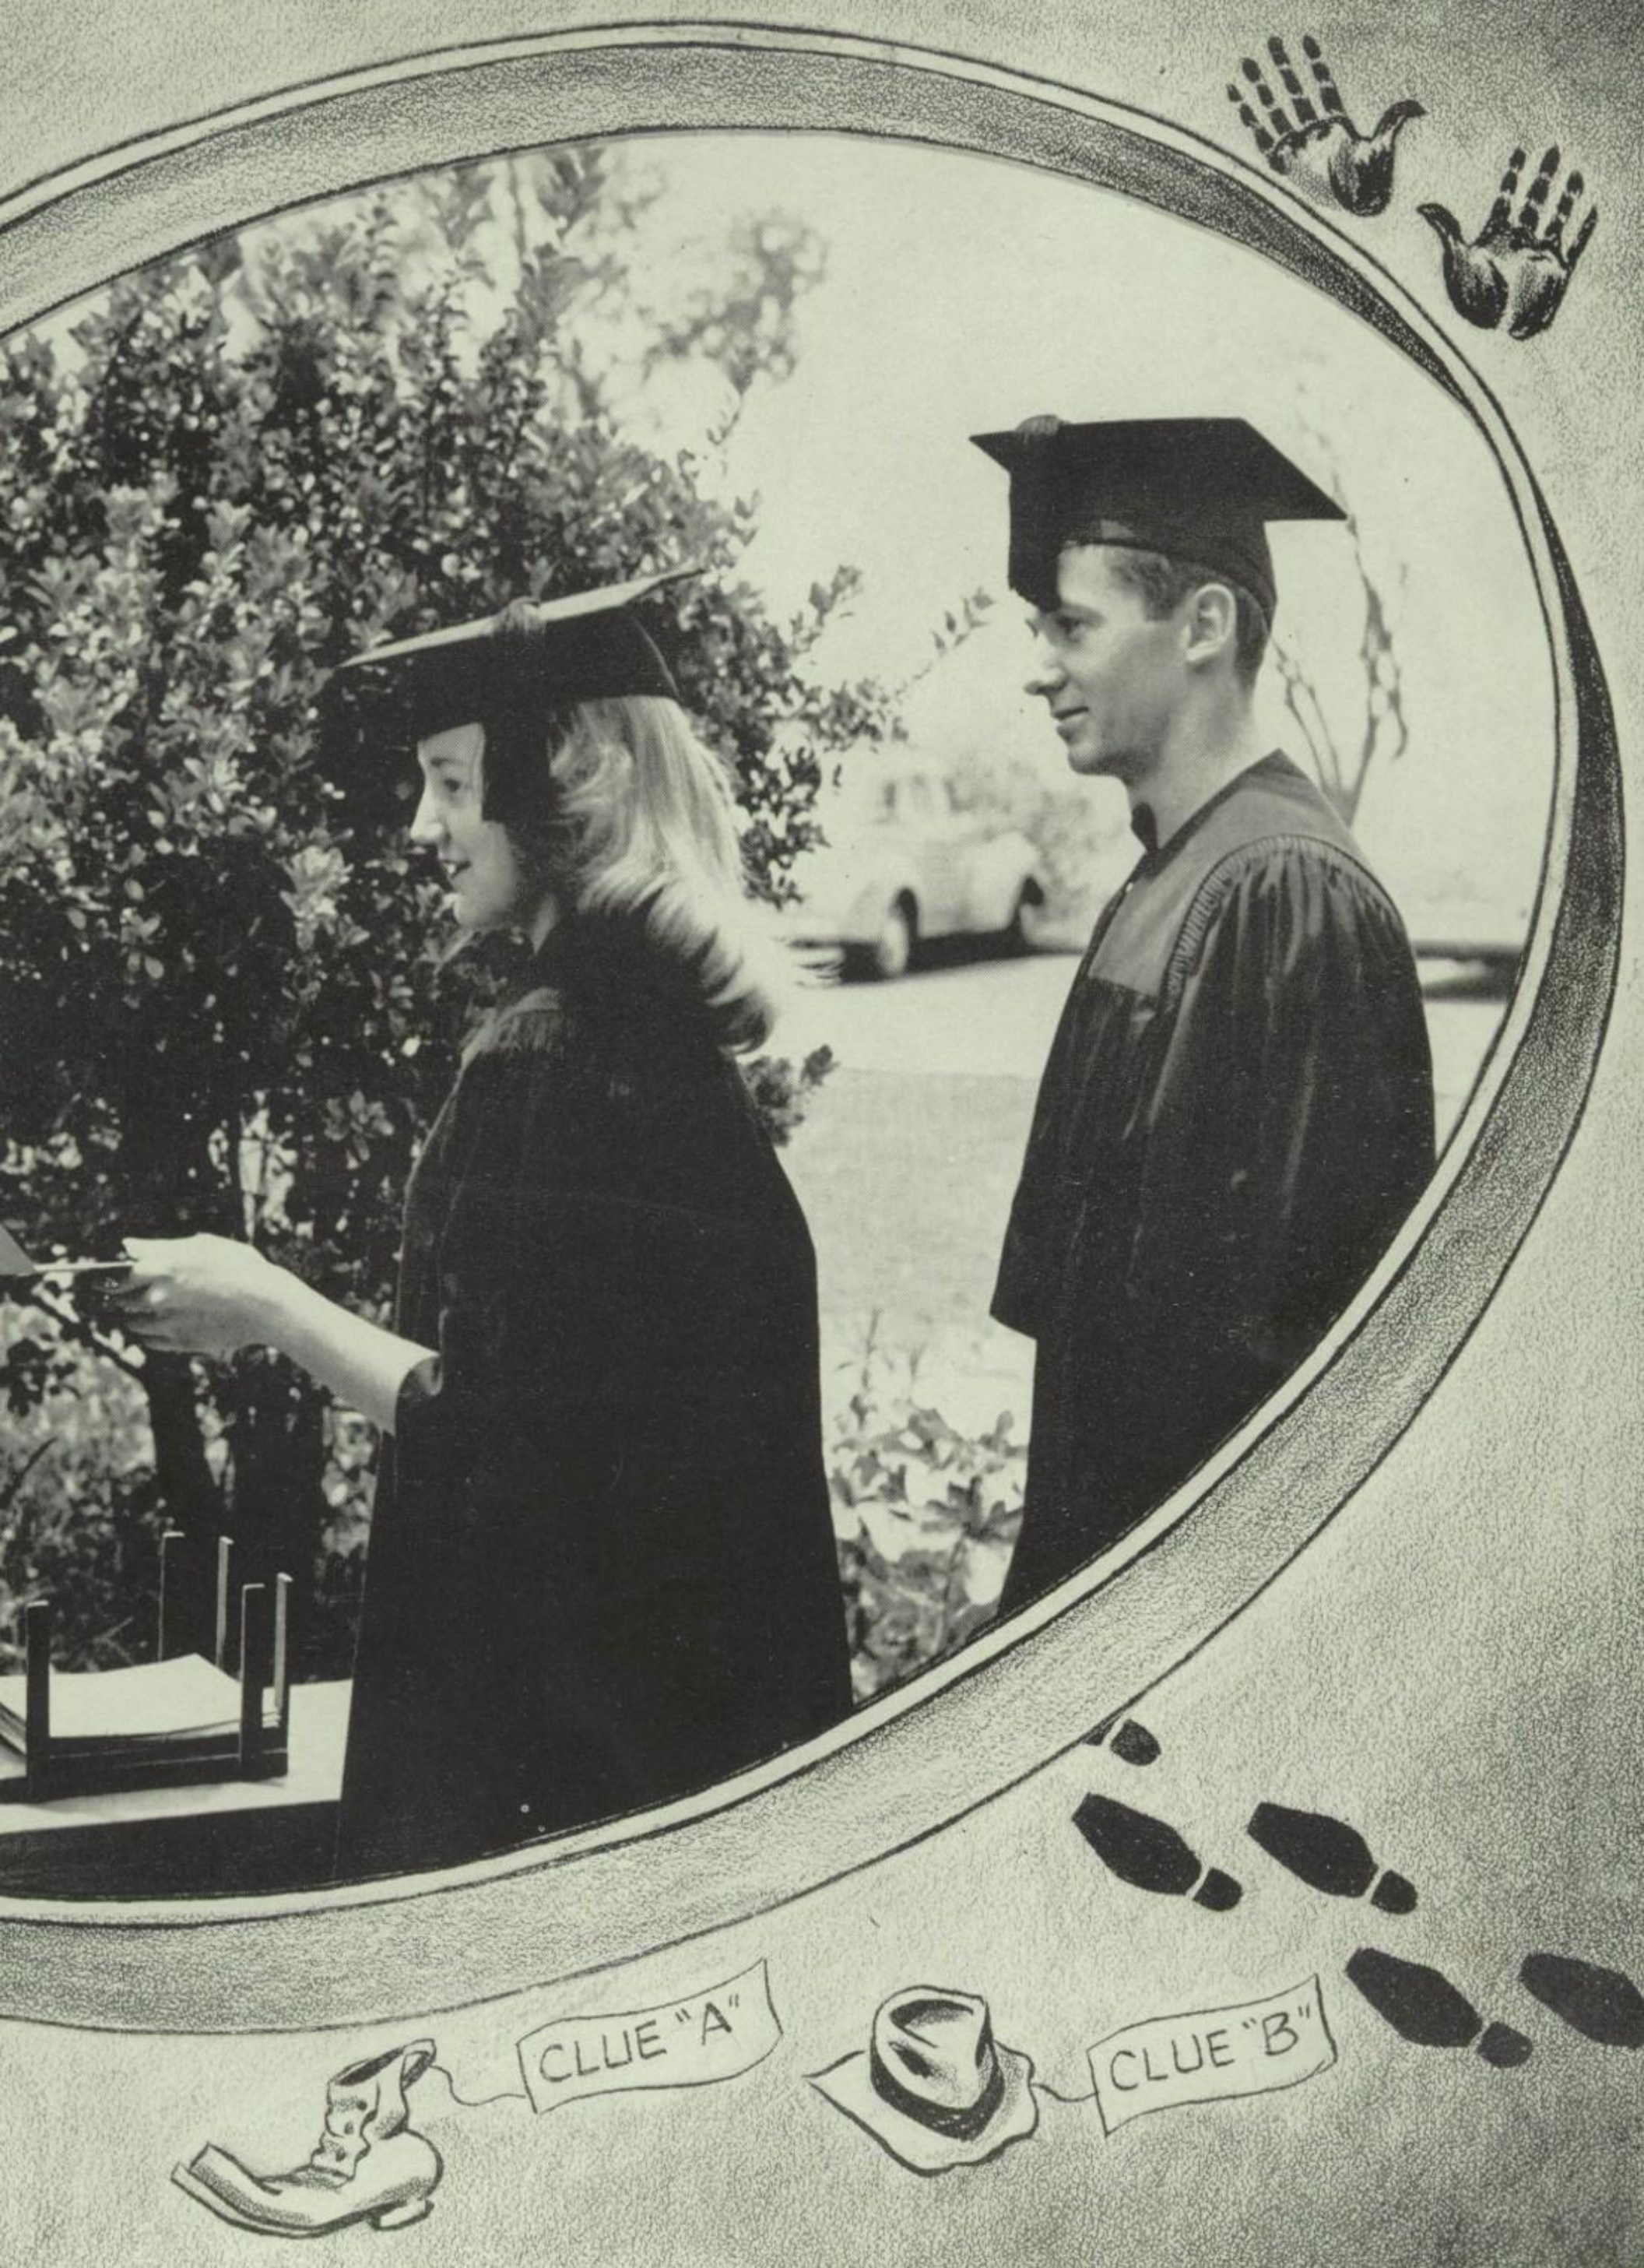

*We danced in a "Daze"

BEHOLD....
THE CULPRITS!

CLUE "A"

CLUE "B"

Only the Seniors could have done it!

As the seniors view the familiar sights of Poly's campus for the last time through a student's eyes, there is one thing they will know for sure—the mighty Geeks will forever be remembered as one of the best classes to have its name echoed through these halls; one that had a mind and brawn of its own!

Even as sophomores, potential was smoldering when they gave their sophomore dance. As juniors, they continued building this greatness by presenting "Dear Ruth" and the prom, "Candyland." (Never did get that angel hair off our clothes!)

Then, best of all, came senior year—and the Geeks outdid their reputation for the finest in entertainment. The colossal Senior Ball (another first), replete with giant snowmen, was worth every broken nail and every lost hour of sleep!

"Arsenic and Old Lace" showed the Geeks' harmless sense of humor, because—after all—only lonesome old men died, poor dears!

The Class of '51 will never forget its two wonderful advisors, Mrs. Brauti and Mr. James, for their own personal interest, time, assistance, and guidance which endeared them to the heart of every graduate who was fortunate enough to work with them.

And so, with real promises of future success, these Geeks bid, and are bidden, a fond farewell.

Only they could graduate!

Bob Marshall gets a real dousing in King Neptune's Court as he and his slightly seasick companions cross the equator during the Senior Assembly.

Intrigue is ended.

Now three years at Poly behind us. . . . As the combined laughter and tears of the past two weeks, especially of Senior Night and Baccalaureate, clash in our muddled thoughts, Mr. McEuen calls our names. Approaching the platform, each senior in turn is fairly shocked with a realization that this would be it. In a minute the so-coveted document, symbolizing everything of which this mystery is composed, will be placed in his hands. Then—"Kris, congratulate me; I've got my diploma!"

Suspense is over. 'Til the end, the seniors have lived up to their mighty motto, "The Geeks have 'Dunit again!"

And so we move into the community.

Could this be "The Last of the Mohicans"?

What a mess!—In other words, the Slop Day Assembly.

Congratulations

Poly belongs to her students. Many of these have gone forth to serve, but all have left a part of themselves to make Poly what it now is and promises to be. Therefore, may we at WESTBROOK'S congratulate you—the students of Poly.

• WESTBROOK'S are now in their fiftieth year of serving you . . . the public . . . in quality merchandise.

Soon, you will be wanting a home. May we offer you our services in helping you plan that dream?

Quality merchandise you can trust . . . since 1900.

Pat Hammond and Jackie Lewis appear to be investigating the complete selection of cosmetics at RIO VISTA PHARMACY. Located at 5458 Mission Boulevard, they also carry the finest in drug products.

Harlan Grayson looks very proud of the lovely corsage he is pinning on Sarah Warner, but of course the flowers only add to her attractiveness. For any occasion select your flowers at al johnson florists, 6189 Magnolia Avenue.

During these days when the world's problems are many, it seemeth good that we should gather together in a feeling of mutual cooperation and friendliness, whether it be in the church, town house, or the home.

ENGRAVERS OF THE POLY HIGH YEARBOOK FOR 20 YEARS

Gabe Lewis and Val Anderson obviously approve heartily of the shoes being modeled by Val at GREENWOOD'S. GREENWOOD'S has many more of every style for anyone to choose from, and at a "just right" price, too!

"Save more as you serve yourself," says the sign at the SAV-MOR SERVICE STATION in West Riverside. Leonard Snyder demonstrates the truth of this slogan while Mason Shurley converses with the helpful attendant.

This is the newest of STATER'S three food stores serving the Riverside area. Though Magnolia Center benefits by claiming a new building, everyone benefits by the quality and prices at all STATER BROTHERS MARKETS. . . . Go see for yourself!

This year's Koala editor, Alice Kjellberg, examines a printing form, while Ray Deiss of the RUBIDOUX PRINTING COMPANY, and Ann Hartley, next year's Koala editor, register satisfaction over the fine printing done by this firm which has put our book "to press" for the last many years.

"I bet I can pull a bigger load than you can," says Jack Dessel to Gordon Thorson. "Oh, no, you can't," says Gordon. "My tractor is also from JOHNSON TRACTOR COMPANY."

RIVERSIDE BUSINESS COLLEGE is an ideal place of study and training for practical professions. Mr. Beaudreau, the director, is explaining to Beverly Eckhardt and Mary Bonnett about the individualized, nationally accredited instruction and free placement service which would be theirs as students of the college. It is an up-to-date institution located at 3819 Seventh Street; Second Floor, Riverside Theatre Building.

"Mmm—smell this," says Nancy Hembree to Frances Schoeber. It's BANK'S DRUG STORE for the best of everything—from cosmetics to drugs.

Liz Norman and Earl Topham always seem to enjoy each other's company—but especially in their twin outfits from GABRIEL'S MEN'S WEAR, 3827 Main Street.

What have we here? Jim Trujillo, Betty Jo Rogers, Richard Hendry, and Diane Griffen no doubt would be glad to say "It's our new DeSoto from HALL MOTORS."

Nerissa Paul looks as if she can already hear that "S-T-R-I-K-E" as she gets set to roll that ball at the RIVERSIDE BOWLING ALLEY; but perhaps Jack Lytton isn't quite so sure!

When hunting for that graduation watch, why not also tell where to buy it?—At the B & B MISSION JEWELERS, 5529 Mission Boulevard.

If the looks of satisfaction exhibited by Le Ann Sawyer and Janet Meares are the result of a successful purchase, they're obviously patronizing STEVENSON'S RIVERSIDE PHARMACY.

On a fine sunny day, Bob Marshall borrowed the finest of cars—HUDSON—from MOORE MOTORS. He and the other lucky passengers, Eileen Ray, M. J. Sorgen, and Ed Mackey are shown here viewing our thriving metropolis.

t Pascher and Betty Jo Sprague are dressed so attractively in two styles indicative of the quality available at MARI-KRIS. They also carry children's clothes.

Jean Bates seems to be admiring some of the lovely plants but Mary Ann Modica is more interested in the camera. All in all they both agree that SMALL'S NURSERY is the place to go for fine plants and flowers.

"Ahh! A new car at last—," says Gordon Asbury to Paula Peterson, Dale Timmons and Renee Harper—and it's from DON GILMORE, the Pontiac dealer. "Dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac."

If you fellows want to look your best, visit ZEE'S MEN'S SHOP at 3775 Main Street, carrying a complete line of men's wearing apparel.

For over thirty-eight years MAPES RIVERSIDE CAFETERIA has provided the discriminating diner with the highest quality food at a price that all can afford. This cafeteria is located at 3661 Main Street.

The OLIVE KINNEY CERAMIC SHOP sends congratulations to the graduates of the Class of '51!

The "Plutocrats" are Wilma Morgan, Louie Albrecht, Karen Cress and John Joyce, and the car couldn't possibly be any other than a breathtaking '51 Cadillac convertible. If you would like a couple or six of these vehicles, then by all means see RUBIDOUX MOTOR COMPANY at 3595 Market Street.

Besides being a favorite place for a jam session (as proved below), DON'S MUSIC COMPANY at 3549 Main Street provides competent instruction on all instruments.

CENTRAL REXALL DRUG at 6511 Magnolia Avenue in Magnolia Center not only has an excellent fountain but a complete prescription department providing free and prompt delivery service.

Mary Jean Bennett and Carolyn Rogers look very much interested in something that Mrs. Bennett is showing them from the silver department at STEDMAN'S. Whatever it is you may be assured it is of the finest quality and craftsmanship.

Beauty and efficiency, too, describes the Crosley home appliances found at TAYLOR'S APPLIANCES. Mary Geesing pours some milk she found in the Shelvador refrigerator while Marilyn St. Clair seems more attracted by the barbecue unit found on the Crosley electric range.

Any man can be well-dressed when he chooses from the discriminating selections at the DON CREE MEN'S STORE, 3937 Main Street.

Finding out the P's and Q's of buying and selling a house—title insurance, escrows and such—are Patty Lewis, Claudia Sedgwick, and Judy Walker, shown here in the office of the UNITED TITLE GUARANTY COMPANY.

Lydia Boyd carefully surveys Pat McCleery in the smart jacket he is trying on at McGRATH-OLSON, 3869 Main Street. She appears confident, for they feature only nationally known brands including Arrow Shirts and Society Brand clothes.

Maury Nelson's jeans go into the inactive file as Blanche Barr sees how he looks after the SWEET'S treatment. Even Maury admits there was room for improvement.

Such feminine pulchritude! Susie St. Clare and Camille Devereaux know KRISTY'S is the store that satisfies their wishes.

Arleo Bodie and Barbara Cummings are "heading" to have their tresses arranged by those three young women on the right who help to make m'lady lovelier at LOLA'S BEAUTY SALON.

For the finest in photographic supplies visit SIRKS CAMERA SHOP at 3575 Main Street.

Richard Buckwald was caught in the act of cleaning his own window at ENGELAUF BROTHERS SERVICE STATION. But, Richard, you should sit back and enjoy the expert service!

Joyce Bigelow and June McMillan appear greatly interested in the variety of material they have found at the J. C. PENNEY COMPANY. The Penney store carries a complete line of wearing apparel and dry goods.

STEPHENSON'S
LADIES' READY TO WEAR

Nope! These are not Fifth Avenue models, but Diane Bryant and DeeDee McClinton are modeling a few fashions from the STYLE SHOP right here in Riverside.

If you or a friend of yours just happened to have better than usual luck on the last hunting excursion, the profits can be reaped months later when that delicious steak is taken from its safe storage space at the H & H FOOD LOCKER SERVICE.

"Well, come in a while and see some television." . . . Perhaps that's what Barbara Castle and her pal are thinking as they look over these sets at BUCHANAN'S T. V.

F. W. WOOLWORTH COMPANY wishes to extend best wishes to the graduating Class of '51.

Looking just as pretty as a picture in their new finery from SEARS are Dare Potter and Kathy Mayer. SEARS carries a complete line of fashion-wise clothes, at budget-wise prices.

Marilyn Brewer and Dick Blaine look right at home in these cozy surroundings that could be in your home, if your furnishings were bought at HUFFMAN'S FURNITURE STORE.

That's Bunny Ivory behind the wheel of this streamlined Dodge from MOSS MOTORS, and Jim Hetrick is giving her some sage advice while Ginger Gilliland and George Hovanec stand in smiling agreement.

Mouth-watering, delicious, top-grade meats. "Where?" you say! Where else but at MISSION MEAT MARKET.

"They can't blame a woman for her dreams," say DeLois Tribble and Wanda White . . . dreams of a sparkling adornment for her left hand from THOMPSON JEWELERS.

Voyle Shelton and Paul San Martino would approve of Diane Chapman and Mickey Post at any time, but in their clothes from REYNOLD'S everyone will approve — with pleasure.

A night at the movies and then to the SNACK SHOPPE for some fine food—or anytime you're downtown and get the urge to eat, go to 3807 Seventh Street.

Pictured is a typical night scene at RUBY'S DRIVE-IN in Riverside. Cool and relaxing comfort is featured in their air-conditioned dining room with soft foam-rubber boothies. For you who prefer your cars, courtesy and promptness is their rule in serving you.

RUBY'S DRIVE-IN RESTAURANT
at Thirteenth and Market Streets

My! My! Look at those placid expressions on the faces of Diane Kinney and Terry Abbey as they engage in the favorite pastime at the WIT'S END, a knitter's paradise.

Before a special occasion, give a big hint to the man of your dreams that you think it would be ever so nice of him to buy a truly beautiful memento at the RIVERSIDE FLORISTS . . . they're sure to please.

Don Thompson "Good Automobiles"

All this beauty overwhelms us! Though the model, Don Thompson, doesn't come with every car, there are many beautiful cars at DON THOMPSON'S USED (even if they don't look used!) CARS.

Poly's students wear good clothes, naturally. Good clothes deserve good care, and that's what they receive from EL RANCHO CLEANERS at 5589 Mission Boulevard.

Enjoying a thrilling, open-air ride in a new '51 Ford convertible from the WARREN-ANDERSON COMPANY are Leila Bridges, Chuck Machado, Jeanne Hook, and Jim Hester. Have you had your "test-ride" in the new '51 Ford?

Long a campus favorite, the new '51 Ford is more popular than ever! It's designed for pleasure on the highways and byways of California. Trim and sleek in appearance, powered for peak performance, priced to please modest transportation budgets. Now's the time for you and Dad to take your "test-ride" in the new '51 Ford. And remember, you can pay more—but you can't buy better.

You'll feel happier than Barbara Linthicum and Ann McIntosh look, when you own a Hotpoint range and refrigerator such as these shown from EHLER'S ELECTRIC.

Clarann Johnson and Jack Nelson are beaming just as if these beautiful furnishings at the MISSION FURNITURE STORE were actually theirs, but a person can hardly blame them!

"Serve yourself" the sign says at the BAKER OIL SELF SERVICE station, and Bill Leland does as it says while Harry Nequette, Jimmy Thomas, and Raymond Byers wait for him and smile for our photographer.

"Snip, snip," go the scissors and there went her hair, but Virginia Whalen isn't worried. You see, CHARLES OF LONDON is on the other end of those scissors, and beautiful hair is his business at his air-conditioned studio at 6223 Magnolia Avenue, Magnolia Center. Telephone Riverside 2288.

"Put your little foot right here . . . " says a salesman at the A. R. COFFIN SHOE STORE to Sally Coon, as Janie Parlette watches to give her approval.

Whatever Cathy McCafferty is writing on her Smith-Corona typewriter from TIERNAN'S must be amusing to Shirley Runner . . . and incidentally, the office furniture is Steelcase, also from TIER-NAN'S.

Flowers or gifts from DONNELL'S florist shop at the corner of Seventh and Main are always correct as a thank-you gift or as a remembrance.

"The better to see you with, m'love!" Pretty as a picture and twice as wise are Donna Abbott and Marilyn McMullan, who realize the importance of careful, thorough service at the RIVERSIDE OPTICAL COMPANY.

Ever so convenient for you lucky people living in Magnolia Center is PENDERED'S MARKET, carrying the best in groceries.

Grace Beach, Diana Sweet, and Kay Ervin represent just three girls who have found out that the MILLER COMPANY is the place to buy their clothes.

Nothing but sheer satisfaction. . . . Whether the shoes are heels or flats, WINSLER'S is sure to have a beautiful pair just right for you, and judging by expressions, Betty Paterson thinks Diane Myers has found the pair for her.

Surrounded by this complete array, Tookie Loy, Barbara Smith, Shirley Ballin, and Merlene Hensley are having a wonderful time picking their favorite cosmetics at KUSTNER'S PHARMACY.
